Costs

The Order establishing the Tribunal, made by the Minister for Health & Children on the 8 September 1999, provided that the Tribunals of Inquiry (Evidence) Act, 1921 (as adapted and amended) should apply to the Tribunal.

Section 2(b) of the Tribunals of Inquiry (Evidence) Act 1921 provides:-

"A Tribunal to which this Act is so applied as aforesaid:

(b) Shall have power to authorise the representation before them of any person appearing to them to be interested to be by counsel or solicitor or otherwise, or to refuse to allow such representation."

The Tribunal authorised the representation before it of the parties referred to in Chapter 2 of this report.

Section 6(1) of the Tribunals of Inquiry (Evidence) (Amendment) Act, 1979 as amended by Section 3 of the Tribunals of Inquiry (Evidence) (Amendment) Act 1997 provides:-

"Where a tribunal or, if the tribunal consists of more than one member, the chairperson of the tribunal, is of opinion that, having regard to the findings of the tribunal and all other relevant matters (including the terms of the resolution passed by each House of the Oireachtas relating to the establishment of the tribunal or failing to co-operate with or provide assistance to, or knowingly giving false or misleading information to the tribunal), there are sufficient reasons rendering it equitable to do so, the tribunal, or the chairperson, as the case may be, may either of the tribunal's or the chairperson's own motion as the case may be, or on application by any person appearing before the tribunal, order that the whole or part of the costs —

(a) of any person appearing before the tribunal by counsel or solicitor, as taxed by a Taxing Master of the High Court, shall be paid to the person by any other person named in the order;"
(b) incurred by the tribunal, as taxed as aforesaid, shall be paid to the Minister for Finance by any other person named in the order."

The Tribunal sat in public on the 28 November 2001 to hear applications for costs. The Tribunal then had the assistance of submissions from Counsel for the Attorney General representing the public interest.

Applications were made to the Tribunal by parties represented before the Tribunal for Orders that the Minister for Finance should pay their costs when taxed. Counsel for the Attorney General did not submit to the Tribunal that any party represented before the Tribunal was not entitled to such an Order, nor did he submit that an Order should be made directing any person other than the Minister for Finance to pay the costs of any person appearing before the Tribunal or costs incurred by the Tribunal. The Tribunal does not consider that any circumstances exist which would make it appropriate for the Tribunal to refuse an Order for costs against the Minister for Finance to any party represented before the Tribunal or to order any person other than the Minister for Finance to pay the costs of the Tribunal or of a person appearing before the Tribunal.

Submissions were addressed to the Tribunal concerning the basis upon which costs should be granted and the attention of the Tribunal was drawn to a divergence in practice by previous Tribunals. In the Tribunal of Inquiry into the Beef Processing Industry and in the Tribunal of Inquiry into the Blood Transfusion Service Board costs were awarded on a party and party basis, but in the Tribunal of Inquiry (Dunnes Payments) costs were awarded on a Solicitor and client basis. Having regard to the nature of the work of the Tribunal and the work involved in representing a party at the Tribunal, the Tribunal considers it appropriate that costs should be awarded on a Solicitor and client basis.

The Tribunal therefore considers it equitable that the Minister for Finance should pay out of monies provided by the Oireachtas the costs of persons represented before the Tribunal in the manner appearing in the separate Orders made by the Tribunal pursuant to section 6 of the Tribunals of Inquiry (Evidence) (Amendment) Act 1979 as amended by section 3 of the Tribunals of Inquiry (Evidence) (Amendment) Act 1997 which are filed in the Central Office of the High Court, draft copies of which form Appendix 9.
